

Simtec Consult Ltd - Customer Subprocessor List

Version: 1.0

Status: Approved

Owner: Director

Prepared: 2026-08-03

Next review due: 2026-09-03 and whenever suppliers or processing change

Purpose And Scope

This document is the controlled template for producing a customer-facing subprocessor list. A supplier is a customer subprocessor only where it processes personal data on Simtec's behalf in delivering the relevant customer service.

Before use, the Director must verify the supplier legal entity, service, data, location, transfer mechanism, contract or DPA position, and whether the supplier applies to the customer. Delete non-applicable rows rather than presenting every Simtec business supplier as a customer subprocessor.

If a customer requires a particular hosting location, prohibits a supplier, or requires approval before a supplier is used, Simtec can assess and negotiate that requirement during project discovery, contracting, or controlled project change. It becomes applicable only when agreed in writing. Supplier restrictions may affect architecture, available features, delivery time, resilience, or cost.

Add any customer support, logging, monitoring, analytics, error tracking, database, email delivery, payment, AI, deployment, or specialist contractor service that processes customer personal data. Do not assume that self-hosted software is a separate subprocessor; confirm whether its vendor receives telemetry, support data, or remote access.

Business Suppliers Not Automatically Customer Subprocessors

These suppliers appear in Simtec's internal cloud-service register but should not be listed as a customer subprocessor unless the particular engagement causes them to process customer personal data on Simtec's behalf.

Supplier / service	Normal internal purpose	Customer-facing decision required
LinkedIn	Business networking and account management	Include only if customer personal data is deliberately processed through the service for the engagement.
Pipedrive	CRM and sales relationship management	Address Simtec's controller processing in its privacy information; include as a customer subprocessor only if used to deliver the contracted processing.
Xero	Accounting and finance	Address business-contact and billing processing in Simtec's privacy information; do not normally treat it as an application-service subprocessor.
Passwd	Company password and secrets management	Assess whether personal data is processed for the service and whether disclosure is required; do not expose credential details.

Customer Change Notification

Notification method: Director to confirm, for example a maintained webpage, customer email notice, or contract notice.

Notice period before adding or replacing a subprocessor: Director and contract to confirm.

Customer objection route and assessment process: Director to confirm.

Verification Checklist

- Confirm whether the supplier is a processor for the relevant customer service.
- Confirm the categories of personal data and people affected.
- Confirm primary storage region and any remote support or onward-processing locations.

- Confirm UK adequacy coverage or the contractual safeguard and any required transfer risk assessment.

Customer Use
