Simtec Consult Limited is committed to acting ethically and with integrity in its business and supply chains. We do not tolerate slavery, servitude, forced or compulsory labour, child labour or human trafficking.

1. PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy applies to all directors, employees, workers, consultants, contractors, subcontractors, agents and suppliers. It supports the principles of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and applies to Simtec's UK and overseas business relationships.

2. OUR BUSINESS AND RISK PROFILE

Simtec is a small UK software development and consultancy business. Its supply chain principally includes specialist software development and consultancy resources, cloud and software providers, professional advisers, recruitment support, office equipment and occasional travel services. Risk is generally low, but overseas labour, labour intermediaries, opaque subcontracting and unusually low pricing may increase risk and require further review.

3. OUR REQUIREMENTS

Everyone working for or with Simtec must:

- work voluntarily and be free to leave employment or an engagement in accordance with lawful notice arrangements;
- not be required to pay recruitment fees or surrender identity documents as a condition of work;
- receive lawful pay and working conditions and be treated with dignity and respect;
- not use forced, trafficked, compulsory or child labour;
- report suspected exploitation or non-compliance promptly;
- co-operate with proportionate due diligence and provide accurate information about subcontracting and labour arrangements.

4. SUPPLIER AND SUBCONTRACTOR DUE DILIGENCE

Before appointing a supplier or subcontractor, Simtec will consider the location, service, use of labour, ownership and subcontracting chain, reputation and any identified warning signs. Higher-risk engagements may require identity and right-to-work checks, confirmation of employment arrangements, references, contractual warranties, policy evidence or further enquiry. Simtec may suspend or terminate a relationship where concerns are not resolved.

5. RECRUITMENT AND WORKING PRACTICES

Simtec will use reputable recruitment routes and will not knowingly engage workers through arrangements involving compulsory fees, withheld documents or coercion. Working hours and workloads must be reasonable, with concerns addressed under the Health and Safety Policy and Stress and Mental Wellbeing at Work Policy.

6. REPORTING AND PROTECTION

Anyone who knows or suspects that modern slavery may be occurring must report it to the Managing Director or use the Whistleblowing Policy. Where the concern involves the Managing Director, it may be raised with Simtec's external legal adviser. Reports will be handled sensitively. No one will suffer retaliation for raising a genuine concern in good faith.

7. AWARENESS, MONITORING AND BREACHES

This policy will be issued to staff and relevant contractors. Targeted awareness or further checks will be provided where risk warrants it. Modern slavery risks, concerns, supplier due diligence and corrective actions will be reviewed at least annually. A breach may result in disciplinary action, termination and referral to an appropriate authority.
